

TRW...that's a little sports car, isn't it?

No. TRW isn't a sports car.
Or any car. But it is part of a great many cars.

And a great many other things you can enjoy.

A color TV show, a baseball game on radio, a jazz band on stereo.

A plane trip to Mexico. The thrill of a launch into space. Even a ride in a little sports car.

Highly diverse, very advanced in technology, with operations in more than 200 worldwide locations.

This is TRW.

As a leader in components and systems for electronics, space, aircraft, automotive, defense, and industrial markets, TRW doesn't even deal directly with most people. But we're directly involved with almost everything that does.
