Centennial of Naval Aviation Celebration
Open House and Parade of Flight
Saturday, Feb. 12, 2011
Naval Air Station North Island, Coronado, Calif.

Grumman TBM Avenger

Grumman EA-6B Prowler and F/A-18

UCAS X-47B, BAMS-D, Fire Scout
100 years after the original 1911 A-1 Curtiss Triad flew, the replica briefly takes flight over San Diego Harbor. The A-1 Triad was the world’s first successful amphibian aircraft. The name “Triad” stands for: land, air and water.
Official CONA show day, Saturday, Feb. 12, 2011

The Blue Angels leading the Parade of Flight

Grumman EA-6B Prowlers
Grumman TBM Avenger

Marine Corps Huey and Cobra helicopters salute distinguished visitors enjoying the parade aboard USS John C. Stennis.

Largest mass formation since World War II in honor of the 100th anniversary of naval aviation. The formation is flying over USS Peleliu and USS John C. Stennis.